

Dropbox Chooser Third-Party Software Notices

This document contains licensing information relating to Dropbox's use of free and open-source software with or within the Dropbox Chooser (collectively, the "FOSS"). Any terms, conditions, and restrictions governing the use or distribution of the FOSS not contained within the license(s) governing use and distribution of the FOSS (the "FOSS Licenses") are offered and imposed by Dropbox alone. The authors, licensors, and distributors of the FOSS have disclaimed all warranties relating to any liability arising from the use and distribution of the FOSS.

Certain FOSS Licenses, such as the Mozilla Public License, require that Dropbox make the source code corresponding to the distributed FOSS binaries available under the terms of the same FOSS license. Recipients of the Dropbox Chooser who would like to receive a copy of such source code should submit a source-code request to Dropbox by post at:

Dropbox
Attn: FOSS Source Requests
185 Berry Street, Suite 400
San Francisco, CA 94107

Please identify in submitted source-code requests: the FOSS packages for which you are requesting source code; the Dropbox application and version number with which the requested FOSS package is distributed; an email address at which Dropbox may contact you regarding the request (if available); and the postal address for delivery of the requested source code.
